

Miguel Székely Pardo

Miguel Székely has a PHD in Economics from Oxford University, England. He has been Chief of the Unit for Regional Development at the Office of the President, Mexico. For the period 1996- 2001 he worked as an Economic Researcher, Specialist in the Social Sector of the Research Department at the Inter American Development Bank, in Washington, D. C. Has worked as a researcher and professor for the Centre of Economic Studies at El Colegio de México, has been professor for the Instituto Tecnológico Autónomo de México and Oxford University, in England, and has more than 50 academic publications about poverty, inequality, and household income and savings distribution in México. He was a member of the National System of Researchers for the years 1990-1994 and currently for the Technical Committee for Poverty Measurement in México. At present, he is Undersecretary for Planning and Evaluation at the Ministry of Social Development in México.