

“Restoring trust: Global action for transparency”
10 - 13 November, 2010 Bangkok, Thailand

Be part of the solution: Join leading experts from civil society, the public, and the private sectors at the 14th International Anti-Corruption Conference (IACC) from November 10 - 13, 2010 in Bangkok, Thailand. At the 14th IACC, participants from the global community will produce strategies and recommendations to reset the global governance agenda for a sustainable future.

Ideas, Inspiration, Innovation

A fundamental feature of each IACC is the eclectic mix of up to 50 workshops and special sessions that take place during the 4 days of the conference. 14th IACC workshops will tackle the following global challenges:

- Restoring trust for peace and security
- Fuelling transparency and accountability in the natural resources and energy markets
- Ensuring collective climate governance
- Strengthening global action for an accountable corporate world

IACC workshops aim to stimulate debate, forge solutions and identify tangible, effective and innovative strategies to combat corruption and boost transparency and accountability standards. We welcome workshop proposals from practitioners sharing the common goal to dramatically strengthen global efforts against corruption.

The call for workshop proposals will open from 15 February to 31 March 2010. We welcome your submission, start considering your proposals now.

Write to info@14iacc.org for more information.

www.14iacc.org

The conference is jointly hosted by the IACC Council, the National Anti-Corruption Commission of Thailand, Transparency International and its local chapter Transparency Thailand.